

Organisation

The Institut Pierre-Simon Laplace is a federation of 6 public research laboratories involved in research on terrestrial and planetary environments.

At the federal level, IPSL implements common services that allow a rationalization of resources and a greater efficiency in the conduct of research activities.

The IPSL ins under the authority of 10 supervisory institutes and several governing bodies

If you want practical information on the institute, here you can find the laboratories directories and the maps to the various laboratories sites. You can also contact us
